

A day of unprotected sex

Saturday March 24 2012

0930 – 1600

The Robens Suite, Guy's Hospital,
London SE1

A study day for Health Advisors, Doctors, Nurses and Counsellors working in Sexual Health and HIV.

The day will explore the issues faced by clinicians in a climate of increased STI and HIV infection, emerging STI drug resistance and a growing concern over HIV and Hep C co-infection among gay men.

We will consider the challenging social and psychological contexts of MSM who have unprotected sex and look at new ways of working with men at high risk; and explore why it seems health promotion and contact tracing are failing us at a time when we need them to work more than ever.

Should we be thinking PEP or PrEP?

Taking place at the top of the world's tallest hospital building!

Speakers include:

Dr John White, Consultant, GU Medicine, GSTT - The rise and rise of STI's

Dr Mary Poulton, Lead Consultant, Kings - Infection and the Law.

Mr Robert Palmer, Lead Advisor/psy, GSTT - The barebacking phenomenon?

Dr Sheena McCormack, Clinical Trials Scientist, MRC - PreP or PEP?

Dr Babu Kulasegaram, Consultant, HIV Medicine, GSTT - HIV/Hep C co-infection

Dr Ford Hickson, Senior Researcher, Sigma Research - Better sex, less harm.
